CUPW Town Halls and Political Day of Action

Save the dates!

CUPW National will be holding two town halls (collective conference calls) and a Political Day of Action on April 23rd. This day marks two years from the day the Conference Board of Canada issued a biased report that was paid for by Canada Post and then used to justify massive cuts and rate hikes. The report, entitled The Future of Postal Service in Canada, predicted massive deficits that have not occurred. In fact, Canada Post is still making money!

Political Day of Action – Thursday April 23, 2015

Details to come.

Join the town hall meetings. Learn more about public support for our postal service. Share your ideas to save our jobs and service. Prepare for the federal election.

Let's show the Conservative government that public postal service is an election issue. Let's change the government.

Join your co-workers and members of the public on April 23rd. Take the message about jobs and service directly to those who can stop this fiasco.

Request:

- 1) Save these dates.
- 2) Make sure CUPW National Office has your updated contact information. To update this information, contact Marie-Claude Mercier-Dion at mcmmercierdion@cupw-sttp.org or 613-236-7238.
