All Out November 2nd for Universal Access to Education

November 2nd, 2016 is the Canadian Federation of Students' National Day of Action.

The first CFS national day of action since 2012, it's a call for universal access to post-secondary education. For all. Free of barriers - including tuition fees!

The CFS is also calling for improved Education Justice and better universal Public Education. To learn more about the issues and the actions planned please see <http://www.cfs-fcee.ca>

And please be there! Check with your local for details on rallies in Victoria, Saskatoon, Regina, Brandon, Winnipeg, Thunder Bay, Sault-Ste.-Marie, Sudbury, Windsor, Toronto, Ottawa, Charlottetown, Fredericton, Halifax, Corner Brook, or St. John's.

The student movement will improve access to post-secondary education for all of us and our children. The students have been there for us in the past. Please consider stepping up to help your local organize the postal worker turnout on November 2.

In solidarity,

Mike Palecek

National President
