

MEDIATION CONTINUES

Your negotiating committee worked long hours all weekend with the assistance of Mediator Morton Mitchnick, in an attempt to unblock what seemed to be an impasse. We met with both the mediator and Canada Post numerous times over the weekend and we will continue to meet with the objective to achieve negotiated settlements. Your negotiators are determined to get the agreements that you deserve.

Rotating Strikes

Strike actions continue to keep the pressure on Canada Post to bring real solutions to the bargaining table to address our demands on health and safety, equality, fair compensation for all, workload and staffing.

Communications

Stay informed, watch your bulletin boards, email, follow CUPW on twitter at @cupw, at <https://www.facebook.com/cupwsttp/> and sign up for CUPW's e-Digest at <http://www.cupw.ca/en/cupw-edigest>.

The Longer the Line, the Shorter the Strike!

In Solidarity,

Nancy Beauchamp
Chief Negotiator, RSMC Unit

Sylvain Lapointe
Chief Negotiator, Urban Unit