

Tell the Prime Minister:

We want Canada Post to start negotiating now!

The Liberal government is on record for supporting better pensions, gender equity, high quality postal service and environmental sustainability, but Canada Post refuses to take these issues seriously!

Liberal government promised:

- ☒ Improved pensions
- ☒ Gender equity
- ☒ High quality postal service at a reasonable price
- ☒ Green initiatives and sustainable public services

Canada Post Management:

- ☒ Wants a two-tier pension system that disadvantages new hires and the next generation
- ☒ Continues to be a serial offender on pay equity
- ☒ Hopes to increase precarious work
- ☒ Threatens to close 493 post offices
- ☒ Refuses to consider postal banking and other expanded and sustainable initiatives

Instead of negotiating with postal workers and using their experience to improve the post office, Canada Post is dragging its heels and sticking to a Conservative-era agenda. It's time to ask the Prime Minister to tell Canada Post to start negotiating now.
